SCENTS OF OCCASION

If you match your shoes to your handbag, why not your scented candle to your paint? Leaders in their respective fields, Jo Malone and Farrow & Ball, have collaborated on a limited edition range of coloured candles with the scents we've come to know and love, such as Lime, Basil and Mandarin and Pomegranate Noir, £42. Available from 1 May in Farrow and Ball stockists and online at jomalone.com.

THE (GREEN) COLOUR OF MONEY

If you've been wavering, now is the time to invest in solar energy, as this month a new government initiative comes into force that means anyone installing solar panels will receive cashback for every unit of energy they produce. A bright idea for once. Visit npower.com/solar for ideas.

MISTER SPEAKER

If, as above, you can match your scent to your paint colour, why not match your speakers too? Meridian Audio has just launched a bespoke colour service, 'Meriden Select', across its digital active loudspeakers. Pictured are the Colour Select DSP 7200 loudspeakers at a hefty £20,125 a pair.

DIARY DATE

L&B on Motcombe Street must be one of London's grooviest shops. It's a beautifully appointed store that's more gallery than retail space, selling fine linens and furniture. This month, from 20-22 May, it's hosting Collect-xion, featuring the furniture of Francoise Fredj Weill, which will be the first time the collection will be shown in the UK. 020 7838 9592
